

YOUR muse charms

All Muses help those that help themselves and can be called upon to fan the flames of love, happiness and success, as long as you are prepared to put in a little work!

comic mask

Sometimes life does not seem to be much fun, and you feel the need to bring some humour and light relief into your day. If you look around at different shops, you should be able to find classical Greek comic or tragic masks, which you can wear when calling upon Thalia's help.

With her crook, Thalia is also very much a 'country girl', who likes the outdoors.

Use comic masks at your altar when you call upon Thalia's aid.

Ask for her help in bringing more fun and energy into your life, and make more of an effort to spend time outdoors. With her gentle approach, Thalia will encourage you to get more pleasure out of the simple things in life.

LOVER'S harp

Beloved of the poets of love, Erato helps those who desire romance in their lives. She delights in the sensual and erotic. Obtaining a harp is not very practical, but you could purchase a badge, pendant or picture of a harp to carry as a talisman and attract her attention and favour.

Of course, Erato will expect you to make an effort to look after yourself and your appearance if you wish to attract new love! But she is a generous Muse and will lend as much help as possible.

As the patron of mime, Polyhymnia can be appealed to for help in self-expression.

pen TALISMAN

You may live in an age where emails and texts have largely replaced hand-written letters, but the pen and tablet of Calliope still have a powerful talismanic effect. As the chief of the nine Muses and patron of philosophy, Calliope is ideal to call upon if you are trying to find your direction in life, or solve deep philosophical questions.

Buy an ink pen and dedicate it to Calliope to help your inspiration flow, like the ink from the pen when you write.

Using a decorative parchment pad – the Muses appreciate beautiful things – write down your thoughts and ask Calliope to guide you to the right answers.

CRYSTAL GLOBE

As the Muse of astronomy, Urania can raise you to the heights of the heavens. If you are unsure of your place in the world or feel like you are always striving for success and never quite getting there, then Urania is your Muse! A small crystal sphere is easy to obtain and can be carried on your person to attract the cosmic energies of Urania. Alternatively, you can pick a crystal that you feel a special affinity towards, or which is associated with success, such as jade, hematite or tiger's eye.

Be sure to show your appreciation for Urania's help when success arrives, by offering a devotion at your altar. Offering thanks will ensure that you remain flying high.
